HEADQUARTERS BULLETIN. SOLDIERS' HOME, LEAVENWORTH, KAN.

GEN. LECTES FARCHILD, Commander in Chief. G.A.R., Madison, Wis. DEAR SIE: In view of the fact that there is now in the National Homes, D. V. S., a majority of old sol-diers who are members of the Grand Army of the tepublic, having their affilations and membership throughout the various States, and who are not pensioners, also physically unable to do extra duty offered by the homes or render service by which to get money to pay dues to their Posts, we have a situation that justifies the attention and action of the Grand Army to the extent that such members be recognized in full force of membership within a | KANSAS.-Department, assigned, and called the Soldiers' Home Department, G.A.R., being directly under the jurisdiction of the Commander-in-Chief, with hendquarters at National Hendquarters; said Posts and Department being exempt from money requirements as existing in other Departments, retaining the power to organize Posts in the Homes, to held office and elect officers as provided for in the rules and regulations; the charter, necessary books and blank forms for such Posts being supplied without charge. There is now a Post at this Home, though for cause cited but few ensioners or extra-duty men can become memers of it, leaving out many who desire to retain their active relation and connection with the Order, and thereby aid in perpetuating an organization intended for more than charity.

W. W. KING. NATIONAL HEADQUARTERS, G.A.R., Madison, Wis., Jan. 26, 1887. DEAR SIR AND COMRADE: The suggestion contained in yours of the 24th inst, to the Commander in-Chief is worthy careful consideration. It is placed on his file, and on his return, about the 20th prox., his attention will be called to the ame. Very truly, yours, in F., C. and L., E. B. Gray, Adjutant General.

HEADQUARTERS WOMAN'S RELIEF CORPS, SAN FRANCISCO, CAL. ELIZABETH D'A. KINNE, National President. NELLIE G. BACKUS, National Secretary.

DEAR TRIBUNE: It may make matters clearer to many to say without further delay that, although your paper is not an official organ of the W.R.C., these letters from the pen of "Eureka" are written under the personal supervision of the National President, and when it is convenient and pleasant to convey messages and information through this medium they may be accepted as official and direct. Though all do not enjoy the privilege of readng THE NATIONAL TRIBUNE, many do, and matters that otherwise might be withheld entirely, the many are thus not deprived of for the sake of the few.

The Department of Connecticut has held its Convention, and we give the following little summary: Officers elected: President, Mrs. Mary J. Merriman, Bristol; S. V.-P., Mrs. Lillian Hope, Hartford; Treas., Miss Lucy M. Toms, Stamford; Chap., Mrs. Frances R. Martin, New Haven, who is also Delegate-at-large. There have been seven Corps instituted during the past year, and there is prospect of six more. At the closing of the Treasurer's books, cash on hand, $401.26; due the Department from Corps, $1.03; liabilities, none. Mrs. Mary J. Dyer has made a very energetic and earnest Department President, and has every reason to feel satisfaction about the year's work, and particularly that the prospect is so bright for the ensuing year. Below in the column will be found a full account of the institution of Gen. Lyon Relief Dottson; J. V. C., Benjamin F. Davis; Surg., John L. Russell; Chap., William H. Parks; Q. M., Isaac

Hooper; O. D., James O. Russell; O. G., Warren
W. Roach; S. M., Edward Trainor; Q. M. S., Chas.
Huett; I. G., Jacob Yockey; O. G., B. W. Mather.
Delegate I. Heerest Allerty and the greatest pleasure to make special mention of it, for we feel that it signalizes a victory for the right. A battle easily won against few obstacles does not be peak the glory that a hardly-Corps, No. 15, Vineland, N. J., and it gives us stacles does not be peak the glory that a hardlycontested fight against powerful opposition does, and therefore we specially commend this Corps to the congratulations of its sister bodies, for they have nobly recognized the broader possibilities of our Order.

The Grand Army is credited with taking a very active part in Salt Lake City against the crying sins of Mormonism, and the W.R.C. works hand in hand with them. The greatest harmony prevails in all directions between Post and Corps, and they are anxiously awaiting some some action of Congress that will purify the air they live in and leave all freer to conduct their work of charity among those so evident needy. We hear from Boston (from Mrs. Turner) of the immense success of their entertainments there in honor of Gen. Fairchild. The Grand Army so heartily co-operated with them as to give them every encouragement, presenting Mrs. Turner, who acted as hostess, with beautiof the body on President Cleveland's action in vetoing the dependent pension bill. The resolution was unanimously adopted. The total number of on her arrangements. The ladies were all with pleasure we note how corners upon its duties should do so, voted orators without exception, so pleasing that not half of the delegates actually present and acceptable were their remarks. We have registered. On the second day of the Encampment | not as yet heard how the reception in Manchester, N. H., passed, but doubt not it was equally successful.

Mrs. S. Agnes Parker, Department President of Massachusetts, has completed her year of administration with great success, and has gained for herself the combined respect and esteem of the W.R.C. and G.A.R.

Mrs. Hattie A. Read, of Dorchester, Mass., has reached home after an extended trip following her visit last Fall to the Convention in San Francisco, and one of the pleasantest incidents of her trip was her visit to Mission Ridge Corps, Chattanooga, Tenn. She was very cordially received and the Corps was very grateful for the information and advice in her power to Frank Culler, Milwaukee; Pifth District, R. L. for the information and advice in her power to Wing, Kewaunee; Alternate, P. J. Rooney; Sixth give them. Mrs. Read is one to win love wherever she may be, and her trip, so much associated as it has been with this work, will always be memorable in her life-journey.

DECISIONS OF THE NATIONAL PRESIDENT. Query. At the sessions of a court of inquiry, can any person be present except the accused, either as counsel or otherwise?

Answer. It rests entirely with the court to decide who may be present. In such matters the W.R.C. should follow the example of the G.A.R., and by reference to Beath's Blue Book, page 142 (revised edition), it seems to be expected that counsel may be present and heard as therein stated. DEPARTMENT OF NEW JERSEY. Mrs. Elizabeth M. Work, Department President of New Jersey, has the most cheering news to report in connection with Gen. Lyon Corps, No. 15, Vineland, which she instituted Saturday evening, Jan. 29. This Corps is composed wholly of members formerly of Alpha League, No. 1, Loyal Ladies' League, of New Jersey. The Woman's Relief Corps in general and the Department of New Jersey in particular should feel proud of this great accession

Mrs. L. M. White, President of Alpha League, No. 1, for two consecutive terms, also one of the originators of the Loyal Ladies' League, feeling convinced that the Woman's Relief Corps stands on a broader foundation than the League and has more opportunity of assisting the Grand Army, has been working assiduously for months past to bring about the change. She is a lady of strong character, highly educated, of wonderful nerve and great executive ability, and has worked hard in the face of bitter opposition, and has succeeded in finally bringing her League into the ranks of the W.R.C. All honor to her, and may she be rewarded by seeing the balance of the Leagues follow the good example of Alpha League and join our Order. She is well acquainted with all the Leagues in this State and many in Pennsylvania, and is not one to sit idle, but after having achieved the honor of bringing her League with her into the ranks of the W.
R.C., she will undoubtedly continue the good work until the Loyal Ladies' League of New Jersey will have joined hands with her and formed themselves into worthy Corps of the W.R.C.

After the instituting of this Corps, with 33 charter members, a public installation was held, which was attended by Gen, Lyon Post and the Sons of Veterans. After the installation, speeches were made by Mrs. E. M. Work, Department President; Mrs. Hall, Corps President; Comrades W. G. White.

ALL ALONG THE LINE.

Work in the Department of New Jersey moves on. Three new Corps have been instituted, including D. B. Benney Corps, No. 13, Entontown, the first colored Corps in the Department, with 27 char-ter members; Mrs. Mary E. Parker, President, Benney Corps was instituted by Mrs. Elizabeth Work, Department President, assisted by Mrs. Helen E. Pray, Past Department Conductor, and others. Mrs. Work also instituted R. C. Johnson Corps, No. 14, at Salem, Mrs. Laura Jenkins President. Public installations were held at both places, and the outlook for both Corps is very favorable. The fourth annual Convention, W.R.C., Department of New York, will be held at Albany Feb. 23,

"LADIES OF THE G.A.R."

EDITOR NATIONAL TRIBUNE: Noticing a few weeks ago the kindly invitation which appeared in your columns for communications from any societies working in aid of the Grand Army, I thought a few words from California might be read with interest by many of the readers of your good paper. And right here let readers of your good paper. And right here let With pleasure we note how earnestly you espouse anything which tends to the good of the it requires of him, having a deep sense of the obil-Grand Army. Working here on these sunny Pacific slopes are the "Ladies of the G.A.R." We come from the home circle of the old soldiers, bringing into our Order all the interest and love of kindred ties, and doing that, I hardly need to say, we make it a noble success. Finding plenty to do on this coast, where so many old veterans have drifted away from their families and the friends of earlier days, taking care of the widow and the orphan, we go to them with hearts aglow with loyalty and love, ever encouraged in our blessed work by the veterans of the Grand Army, who feel it is our sacred right to cheer their declining days, and ours and our sons and daughters to keep their graves and memories green.

The Department of California, Ladies of the G.A.R., held its annual convention in this city Thursday and Friday, the 27th and 28th of January. Two pleasant days were spent dis-Sec., Kate E. Howell; Chap., Nellie P. Ander-

JOS. W. KAY.

He Declines the Nomination as Department Commander of New York.

NEW YORK, Jan. 23, 1887. Comrades Edward Erowne, Chairman, and Charles W. Cowtan, Secretary, Joint Conference Commanders and Delegates of the Posts of the Grand Army of the Republic, New York and Kings

COMMADES: When, on the 8th inst., by a vote so flattering and nearly unanimous, you selected my name as the one to be presented to the Department Encampment, to assemble at Albany on the 23d proximo, as your candidate for Department Commander of the Empire State, I asked your indulgence in order that I might have a chance to think over and decide the matter. To most men such an expression on the part of his neighbors would be irresistible, and there would be no hesitancy in accepting. To me your kind consideration has been a welcome recompense for four and a half years of as hard, earnest work as man ever did for his fellow-man, through good and evil report, without, at any time, allowing selfish or sordid motive or his own aggrandizement to control him, and, in so far, it is refreshing to know where I stand. But this is a serious matter to consider, With little thought of self; with no care for the ties which I find bind and control men outside their comradeship; turning neither to the right nor left; knowing no creed and recognizing no party : planting myself squarely upon the platform, "Stand by omrade even though the whole world assail him. I have done my whole duty until I am unfit, physieally and mentally, to add to my labors. I have had much to contend with in the prosecution of the work for veterans' rights, and find myself unable to cope with the unfinished business now on hand leading up to a just recognition of the rights, regardless of party affiliation, of the men who lought the war, much less to assume new and more arduous duties. Another influence, one which has culminated within the past few days at Albany, even were I physically capable, would deter and probably control me at this time. Whether the question at issue were the Presidency or the humble position of porter in the public stores, a United States Senatorship or an orderly at the Capitol of the State, the principle involved is the same; he who assails my comrade assails me, and I am among those willing to stand up and be counted for my comrade under such circumstances, even should I stand there alone. To this rule there should be no exception; but, alas, even with all the experience of the past and the education we have had to draw from, men stand in our ranks today, both in public office and out, to whom the obigation of our Order is binding only when it suits eir purposes, and at other times, the full force of their power is thrown mercilessly against a comrade, and the cry once more goes out "Anything to beat a soldier," because it receives encourage-ment and assistance in our ranks, and we are un-rue to each other. To be Department Commander of this State; to place her in the van in peace as she was in furnishing men for the war, would be a proud achievement; but it requires a man at the helm now more than ever before in our history who can unite, soa is a position to which no man should aspire diesalv or rook gation it imposes, and a determination to be true to himself, true to the men whose representative he is, the rank and file of the Grand Army of the In my three years of service in the Army of the Potomac as a private soldier, and since then in my almost 20 years' service in the ranks of the Grand Army of the Republic, no duty has devolved on me which I sought to evade, nor have I ever turned my back upon either a hidden or an open foe; but, for the reasons given, while my heartfelt gratitude goes out to the conference of representative soldiers of our section, the men who were and are my comrades, who have honored me with this nomination, I most respectfully decline, Yours, in F., C. and L., Jos. W. KAY. Winchester Post, 197, G. A.R.
